WOMAN DISAPPEARS

Mrs. Harry Nason of Ballardvale Not Been Heard from Since Sunday. Pond and River Dragged

A belt, believed to be a part of the coat which she wore, found beside the road about half way between the Shawheen river bridge and the road which leads to Pump's pond, is the only clue to the whereabouts of Mrs. Harry Nason, of Clark road, Ballardvale, who disappeared from her home Sunday evening at eleven o'clock and has not been heard of since.

According to members of the family there was company at the home on Clark road Sunday evening. Mrs. Nason's son, Louis Nason, played the saxophone and his mother played the piano and sang. After the company was gone, Harry Nason, the woman's husband, retired, and the son followed a short time afterwards. The latter was heard going upstairs by his father, who inquired where Mrs. Nason was.

Louis said he supposed she was in bed, but she was not. It was then found that Mrs. Nason's hat and coat were missing. The front door was closed, but it was not locked. Father and son immediately started a search. Harry Nason's father, Benjamin F. Nason, lives near him on the same street, and Harry went there, but seeing no light, he knew she was not there, and returned to his home. It was not until early Monday morning, when a woman found the belt, that the search led to any great distance from the home.

It is not known whether she took any appreciable amount of money with her when she left home. At first it was believed that she had taken some money, but her pocketbook has since been found with money in it. How much money she had that was not in her pocketbook is not known.

Mrs. Nason has only one living relative in addition to her husband and her son. She is Ethel Lovejoy, a cousin, who lives in Medford, Me. She has friends in Clinton, Me., Tunbridge, Vt., and in Atlantic City, N. J., and it is possible she may turn up at one of these places.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Nason and their son, Louis Nason, who is about seventeen years old, are employed in the Shawheen mills, and Sunday night, according to her usual custom, Mrs. Nason had put up three lunches one for each of them, to be eaten during the noon hour at the mill the next day.

The police have been working on the case since they were first notified, and Tuesday State Officer Richard J. Griffin assisted. Wednesday four officers were on the scene early, as were the Boy Scouts, and Chief Frank M. Smith of the Andover police, to direct the work. The shores of Pump's pond were visited and grappling hooks were used along them. Later the search was

Central 2, Indian Ridge 1
The Methuen Central schoolboys journeyed to Andover Saturday to play the undefeated Indian Ridge team on the Smith & Dove field in a Grammar School league game, the Central team winning by two goals to one.

The winning of this game by the Central boys puts them right back in the running. The victory was quite unsuspected, in view of the heavy defeat the week previous at the hands of Shawheen, who trounced them to the tune of eight goals to one in a very one-sided game.

The victory now puts the league in a very interesting state, as Shawheen, Central, and the Indian Ridge battle closely for possession of the Arlington Mills shield and medals. It is expected that the championship will be decided by the top four clubs at the end of the season, with two semi-finals and a final to decide the issue. The lineup:

Sunday Is Mother's Day

*"Who ran to help me when I fell,
And would some pretty story tell,
Or kiss the place to make it well?
My Mother."*

Sunday is the day consecrated to devotion to duty to that noblest of all God's creation—the Mother. For the sacrifices she has made, no tribute is adequate to lay upon the altar of her love, care and solicitude of a lifetime.

And yet the slightest remembrance, the merest token of your affection, will seem like a mountain of compensation to her.

Do not forget YOUR mother Mother Sunday, whether living or dead. Send her flowers, or wear them in her honor or memory. She is truly "The Girl You Can't Forget."

Entertain Shawheen and Bradlee Mothers' Clubs

Members of the Shawheen and Bradlee Mothers' clubs were guests of the Andover Mothers' club at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon in Pynchard hall. Twelve guests were present from Shawheen and fifteen from Bradlee.

Rev. Alfred C. Church, pastor of the Free church, was the speaker of the afternoon, and his remarks were especially appropriate for a group of mothers who are endeavoring to be of service to all the children of Andover. He said that there was no such thing as the "new woman" that she is the same woman of Solomon's time described in Proverbs. Every woman has the mother instinct, expressed not only in the care of her own children but as a social mother helping children in the schools, hospitals, and wherever they need help and care. These opportunities are broader and bigger than they ever were before.

The musical program included two piano selections, "Romanza" by Mozart and a waltz by Chopin played by Mrs. F. H. Foster; two songs by Mrs. Frederic G. Moore, "The Spring" and "Hushen"; and a duet, "O, tell us merry birds of spring" by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Mary S. Jackson. Two poems, "The House Where the Children Can Play," by Edgar Guest and "The Bravest Battle," by Aquin Miller, were read by Mrs. Frank D. Valley.

Refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake and coffee were served by Mrs. Thomas Platt, Mrs. Charles S. Buchan, Mrs. Lyman Cole, Mrs. Edward Cole, Mrs. Frank M. Foster, Mrs. James Walker, and Mrs. Charlotte Collins.

Baptist C. E. Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Christian Endeavor of the Andover Baptist church was held in the vestry of the church Monday evening with twenty-three persons present.

The meeting was opened by the president, Miss Effie Ross. Plans were discussed for a play to be given Monday, June 1, entitled, "Just a Little Mistake," the proceeds to be used to send delegates to Northfield. It was also voted to have a picnic the last Saturday in July and to invite the Junior society to join. Clarence Ricker was appointed chairman of the committee.

William Barnett, chairman of the publicity committee of Andover Union, spoke to the members about the publicity contest. Ralph Ricker was appointed chairman of the publicity committee for the church. After the meeting adjourned a social hour was enjoyed by all. Ice cream and cookies were served.

Andover — Tufts 3

The seventh inning proved to be lucky for the Phillips Andover Academy Wednesday afternoon at Brothers field as it scored six runs in that frame which enabled it to defeat the Tufts college freshmen, 8 to 3.

Whatever chance the Medford club had of winning was in the third inning when Bowker its star pitcher was hit in the side of the face while at bat and had to retire from the game. In the two innings he was on the mound he looked very good, allowing the blue but one hit and striking out two men.

Smith was the outstanding hitter of the Tufts team as he collected two out of four during the contest.

Annual Sale and Entertainment by St. Catherine's Guild

For several years past, standing room only, has been the fate of late arrivals at the annual entertainment and sale of St. Catherine's Guild, so it is advisable to make an early start for the parish house of Christ Church next Tuesday evening. The operetta adapted from "The Golden Secret," will begin promptly at a quarter to eight. Chorus and soloists alike have been trained by Mrs. Frank Paige, and sing most creditably. The entertainment promises to be entirely up to the high standard set by this society of little girls for their public performances, and the audience is assured of an hour of real enjoyment. Costumes alone are worth the price of admission, and for incidental music, Mrs. Joseph N. Ashton will bring her violin.

As for the sale — there are several new and original creations, known to be useful and believed to be beautiful. There are the old standbys of holders sewed by the smallest fingers and made from pretty bits of material. The dusters are of unusual and interesting ornamentation. There are linen dish towels, very neatly hemmed, and on request, more of the new style button bags which proved so popular last year. There will be candy and ice cream for sale.

St. Catherine's Guild is a missionary society and the proceeds of its annual entertainment and sale are devoted entirely to helping other people. Tickets, at twenty-five cents each, may be purchased from the children of the Guild, or admission may be paid at the door. Next Tuesday, May 12, at 7.45 in the parish house of Christ Church.

Fishing Season in Ponds and Lakes Now Under Way

Director William C. Adams of the State Division of Fisheries and Game, has issued a statement relative to the opening of the fishing season on the pond fish, so called. This will be welcome news to the fishermen who specialize on pond fishing instead of trout fishing.

The following dates open the period during which the fish may be lawfully taken together with other regulations applying thereto.

Yellow Perch—April 1. Daily bag limit of 40 fish per person.

Pickrel—May 1. Minimum length, 12 inches. Bag limit, 15.

Pike Perch—May 1. Minimum length, 12 inches. Limit, 5 fish.

White Perch—June 1. Minimum length, 7 inches. Bag limit, 20 to one person per day or 30 to two or more persons.

Smelt—June 1. Hook and line only in salt or fresh waters.

Horned Pout—June 15. Daily bag limit of 40 fish per person.

Black Bass—July 1. Minimum length, 10 inches. Bag limit, 6.

The Division of Fisheries and Game has just completed one of its important yearly activities—the salvage of white perch from Lake Tashmoo on the island of Martha's Vineyard for the purpose of stocking the ponds throughout the state.

In this work a corps of trained wardens have scined and shipped about 135,000 white perch, which were placed in inland ponds open to the public fishing. Similar work has been carried on for the past few years and has resulted in fine perch fishing in many ponds which otherwise would have no perch in them.

It will interest those who indulge in smelt fishing along the shore that State Wardens during the early spring months have maintained an intensive patrol on the streams along the coast into which the smelt run, for the purpose of reproduction.

The wardens report that on both the North and South shores larger runs of smelt have been noted this year than for many years, which is undoubtedly due to the protection given to these fish during their breeding season in the past few years by officers of the division.

On the basis of those observations it is fair to assume that there will be better smelt fishing along the shores this year than for some years past. Attention is again called to the fact that only hook and line can be used for the taking of these fish in either salt or fresh waters.

Sons of Veterans Auxiliary Holds Box Party

One of the most successful gatherings ever held by the Sons of Veterans' Auxiliary was that of Wednesday evening when the lodge held a box party for the members and guests. A delegation from the Women's Relief Corps was present and visitors from Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill auxiliaries.

The ladies brought boxes of good things tied up attractively and these were auctioned off during the evening by Charles Kibbee, the proceeds helping to swell the treasury. Prices were awarded for the best looking boxes as follows: Mrs. Viola Stentford, plant; Miss Katherine Neas of Boston, cut glass basket; Mrs. Margaret McCord, bulb dish; Mrs. Sadie Kibbee, box of correspondence cards; Mrs. Hamilton of Lowell, box of writing paper; Mrs. Eleanor Damon, box of candy; Mrs. Qualey, wonder box for children; Mrs. Alexander Crockett, eversharp pencil; Miss Anna Neas, individual teas; Mrs. Florence Curtis of Lowell, plant; Mrs. Mary Tammany, cup and saucer; Mrs. Frances Langill, safety razor. A string of pearl beads offered as a special prize was won by Mrs. James Nicoll of Ballardvale.

The judges were Alexander Crockett, Commander Henry Chukey of the G. A. R. Post; Mrs. Curtis and Mrs. Hill of Lowell. The entertainment program consisted of a piano solo by James Tammany; readings by Marion Rice; solos, Miss Katherine Neas of Boston, and remarks from the members of the visiting lodges.

The boxes when opened contained goodies of various kinds and the contests were enjoyed by the guests present. Ice cream and coffee were also served by the committee in charge who were Mrs. Margaret McCord, Mrs. Sadie Kibbee, Miss Anna Neas, Miss Alice Damon.

Mother's Day

"If I were damned of body and soul,
I know whose prayers would make me whole—
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!"

Next Sunday will be Mother's Day. Already many little tokens of affection—cards of greeting, letters, and gifts—are swelling the mails and carrying tender sentiments throughout the land. On this day the place of Mother and the Home will receive general recognition from thoughtful sons and daughters in every walk of life and every station of endeavor. Pulpits will sound forth their praises; old and young alike will pause to do homage; even the daily press will give freely of its columns for the elevation of Mother-love. All this is as it should be.

The sacrifices, bravery, and loving-kindnesses of mothers have long furnished a theme for poets and story-writers the world over. The home-makers have been glorified in spite of the necessarily menial nature of their work. This too appears to be justified; and it is extremely doubtful if any amount of praise and glorification can adequately pay for the self-abnegation and labors of our mothers. The average father would probably bend and break under the burdens which the mother accepts as her rightful lot in the scheme of things. Today, in the so-called "century of the child" she has been somewhat overlooked, but she continues to "carry on" with uncomplaining fortitude, confused perhaps by the changes going on about her but striving ever to adapt herself to conditions as they are from day to day.

If a mother's ambitions for herself are unrealized, her great hope is that they may reach fruition in her children's successes. The tendency to share in the activities of her children—to sympathize, worry, hope, and plan with them—is a natural one evidently. A sense of her duty alone does not impel her; rather, she seeks attainment through them of the desires and ideals which in her own life may have been frustrated. This seems to be one of the main reasons for mother-love as we know it, and as such should be for the children an added incentive to accomplishment of those things which represent the highest desires of the mother. The phrase we hear so often used—"She lives in her children"—is all too true, but if she must be content to live in their lives, cannot they in turn add to her sum of happiness by keeping her in closer touch with their activities and happiness? A recognition of this need of every mother seems to exist in the celebration of Mother's Day. Was it not with something of the sort in mind that Uncle Sam designed the U. S. Mails? At any rate let's "make believe" for a day and pretend that he did—and write to Mother!

Board of Public Works Plans Street Improvements

At a meeting of the Board of Public Works held Tuesday evening, it was voted that the first piece of roadwork to be done by the town this year is to be on Abbot street, beginning at a point where work ceased last year. The present plans call for a new road as far as Ripley's farm. The work will commence immediately after Memorial day, May 30, in order that the road, which is much traversed at that time, may be left open for traffic.

A petition was received from Matthew Burns of Shawheen Village and others, to install a water main on Magnolia avenue. The board deferred action upon the petition until the next meeting.

It was voted to allow the Fraternal Building association the use of the playstead from June 29 to July 5, during which time a carnival will be held.

A water main is being installed on Haverhill street in preparation for the reconstruction of the road.

The work of blanketing the streets with oil began Wednesday morning. Essex and Lewis streets were the first to be treated.

Two Automobile Accidents

Cutting in on Main street Wednesday evening, resulted in two damaged automobiles and a crack in the granite retaining wall in front of the residence of Dr. Abbott.

John Ferguson, who was driving slowly down Main street about quarter past seven preparatory to turning into his driveway at 71 Main street, was struck just as he crossed the car track by a Buick touring car driven by Henry J. Clark of 501 Concord street, Manchester, N. H., and owned by Morris Resnik of 583 Beacon street, also of Manchester. The machine driven by Mr. Clark was also proceeding down Main street but at a more rapid rate than the Ferguson machine, and miscalculating the possibility of passing it, struck its forward end and swerved to the right, crashing into the retaining wall on the east side of the street. The forward end of the Buick was wrecked and the steering wheel was broken. Mr. Ferguson's Ford lost a hub and a tire. Mr. Clark suffered a laceration of the lip and also from shock.

Mr. Ferguson was accompanied by his wife and Mr. Clark by Mrs. J. Payton and Mrs. Morris Resnik, both of 583 Beacon street, Manchester, N. H.

On the same evening, a Chevrolet sedan owned by John G. Nichol of 76 Phillips street, Lawrence, and driven by Alex R. Nichol of the same address, ran into a Ford owned by Norman MacLeish of 7 Bartlett street, which was parked without lights on Shawheen road. The rear end of the Ford and the forward end of the Chevrolet were considerably damaged. Mr. Nichol says that he was blinded by the lights of an approaching automobile.

West Church Will Celebrate One-Hundredth Anniversary

June 15, 1826, the laying of corner stone; December 5, 1826, the organization of the church, and December 26, 1826, the dedication of the church building, are events in the history of the West Church which deserve more than a passing notice and because of this at the annual meeting a committee was chosen to work out and present plans for a fitting recognition of the anniversaries. These dates all fall on Sunday in 1926, and plans have been made accordingly and were presented at a special church meeting held at the vestry on Wednesday evening.

It has been found necessary to have the following committees: Program, history, finance, advertising, invitation, hospitality, pageant, reception, supper and music. Some of these have already been appointed and will be announced in the near future.

The laying of the corner stone will be observed by special services in which the pastor of the South Church will have a large part, the South Church being the Parent Church. On Saturday, December 4, special commemorative services and a banquet will be held. On Sunday there will be services at 10.30 with sermon by a former pastor, basket lunch at noon, and the dedication of the new vestry if it is built by that time, if not, a special service will be arranged. Although it is a year away, the time will be found to be none too long to bring about a dignified and fitting observance of this milestone in the church's history.

Tongue Twisters That Have Become Classics

Some time ago there appeared in the British comic journal Punch, a particularly effective tongue twister, which ran something to this effect:

A lady was walking down a country lane when she met a tinker. "Ah," she said. "I see you are copper-bottoming your pots." "Oh, no," he replied. "I'm aluminizing 'em, mum." As a tongue twister this is pretty hard to get, though perhaps the American form of the words is just a trifle more difficult to wrap one's tongue around: "I'm aluminizing 'em, mum."

There are, of course, many thousands of these traps for the unwary floating about. Here are a few. The test is, not merely to say them, but to manage to repeat them quickly, say a half a dozen times without getting one's tongue tied up in a knot.

FOUR BILLION STARS

Observatory to Bare Wonders of Firmament.

Seattle.—This city soon is to have the largest stellar scope in the world and the greatest astronomical observatory, in the gift of Charles H. Frye, capitalist. The plant for the huge mirror, which will be open to the public during the summer, now is being erected.

The task of preparing the mammoth speculum, the largest ever cast in the world, is being completed by T. S. M. Sheridan, Canadian astronomer and telescope builder, in specially constructed shops in Vancouver, B. C. The great mirror, 120 inches in diameter, must be ground down by hand work until it possesses the correct focal curvature.

Other Big Ones.

The largest existing telescope today is the instrument at the Mount Wilson observatory, mounting a 100-inch speculum. The next in size, 73 inches across, is at Little Sanich, B. C., Canada.

The Frye observatory is remarkable for several features. It is the first erected primarily for public education. The mirror is the first large optical lens ever cast on the North American continent. The observatory itself will contain a collection of astronomical photographs gathered from every part of the world.

There are about 5,000 stars visible on a clear night to the naked eye. A 100-inch reflector makes 219,000,000 stars visible. The Mount Wilson speculum brings into view 320,000,000, while the big Frye telescope will, according to conservative estimates, make visible at least 400,000,000 of the twentieth magnitude or outside the farthest boundaries of the universe, as the best imagination of man conceives the universe.

A huge dome 100 feet in diameter and 150 feet in height will house the heavy machinery used to manipulate the ponderous reflector and refractors of the big telescope.

Scientists are awaiting anxiously the completion of the mirror in the hope of viewing Mars and several other planets which will be in favorable oppositions to the earth this summer and autumn.

40-Room Residence

Moved Three Miles

Los Angeles, Cal.—Another feat in house moving was completed recently by moving a 40-room residence valued at $150,000 a distance of three miles in three nights without interruption to traffic on one of the city's most-used boulevards.

The dwelling is the largest dwelling of its kind moved from one foundation to another in the United States.

To enable the dwelling to be transported quickly and without suspension to traffic, the house was saved into three sections, one of which was moved from the old foundation each night between midnight and dawn.

Sawing the house and jacking up the individual sections required about six weeks. After the three parts were on the new foundation the house was assembled into one building again.

Forty workmen were employed in moving the dwelling, which is of frame construction. A large truck, especially designed for transporting large structures, rolled the sections to the new foundation constructed for the dwelling.

Mercy Aid in New York

Totals $80,000,000 Year

New York.—New York spends $80,000,000 a year to alleviate poverty, sickness and other misfortune.

This was the estimate contained in a partial report issued by the co-ordination committee, of which Robert W. De Forest is chairman, which has been working nearly a year on a plan for better co-ordination among the city's 2,000 public and private welfare agencies.

Of $31,678,984 appropriated by the city government, the department of public welfare spent $7,010,088 during the typical year selected by the committee. The health department expended $5,478,641, board of child welfare $4,196,550; Bellevue and allied hospitals, $2,848,005; parks and playgrounds, $3,901,800. Grants to private charitable institutions totaled $7,301,175.

Munich Stenographers

Sell Funeral Orations

Munich.—Stenographers out of jobs in Munich have found a source of revenue in the local cemeteries. It is their custom to attend all funerals and take down the words of the officiating clergyman. These they transcribe neatly on mourning paper with a black border, and then offer their work to the relatives of the deceased. In almost every case the relatives buy not only the first transcript, but often order a considerable number of carbon copies.

BIG UNKNOWN AREA

WILL BE EXPLORED

Science Expects Much From Expedition.

Washington.—Scientific information of high value will accrue from the exploration of the world's biggest unknown area by the MacMillan Arctic expedition under the auspices of the National Geographic society with the active co-operation of the navy, according to a bulletin issued at the society's Washington headquarters.

Data which will be collected by members of the expedition and observations made by the United States navy flyers are of potential value to navigators, farmers and fishermen," the bulletin explains.

The major geographical fact is that the huge unexplored area, a million square miles, lies between two American flags, that which flies over Alaska, and that which Peary planted at the North pole. In this area, more than three times the size of Texas, there is the possibility of a new continent being discovered, and the probability of land of some kind.

Why Land is Expected.

"The existence of this land is postulated on reports of explorers who have skirted the edges of the unknown area, and of observations of tides and ice conditions along this fringe, which conditions indicate the existence of land.

"Should such land exist it will be of great future economic importance in view of the commercial flying that, in years to come, will be done across the Arctic regions.

"The combination of aircraft and radio in Arctic exploration is a new feature of exploration, which not only adds romance and adventure to the undertaking, but which enhances the scientific value of the expedition.

"Hitherto our information about the Far North has been from explorers who had to penetrate it in winter, when the ice was continuous; summer flying makes possible observations of entirely different conditions, with 24 hours of daylight to aid the flyers.

"This same daylight, however, as radio fans will realize, is a handicap to broadcasting, because night time is radio time. The use of the new short wave-length apparatus, under these conditions, is an experiment which will be of value to the new science of wireless communication.

"Upper air temperatures in the Far North are almost as little known as the million square miles which should show a long-hidden continent. Summer records of these conditions not only will have a value to future flying but may have a direct bearing on weather forecasting.

"Forecasting weather consists largely in detecting new disturbances as they show up on the western and northwestern borders of the United States, learning their characteristics, and figuring out the paths they probably will follow because of prevailing barometric pressures and temperatures ahead of them.

Tracking Weather to Its Lair.

"The great majority of what the weather forecasters call the 'lows'—that is the areas of subnormal barometric pressure—seem to originate over the warm sea south of the Aleutian islands in the winter, and over the interior of Alaska during the summer. But some of the conditions which cause these 'lows' to be 'built up' in those places and create 'high' to the east have their birth farther north in the polar regions, and a better knowledge of temperatures, pressure and wind changes there undoubtedly would facilitate weather forecasting.

"In the search for the beginnings of its weather the United States is not concerned with the entire polar regions. It is most concerned, it happens, with the unexplored territory which lies north of Alaska.

"Temperatures, pressures and wind conditions—the vital weather factors—are not known in the regions north from Alaska to the pole. Exploration of this area is a preliminary to making detailed observations of these conditions which directly affect farms and orchards of the United States."

Speaking of the navy's part in the expedition, Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic society, said:

"Two of the outstanding men of their generations in the history of polar explorations were officers of the United States navy—Charles Wilkes, who discovered the Antarctic continent on January 19, 1840, and Robert E. Peary, who attained the North pole on April 6, 1909. Both were acting under the orders of the President and secretary of the navy.

"It is a matter of pride to the members of the National Geographic society that the monuments to Peary and Wilkes in the Arlington National cemetery were placed there by their society.

"With these two names may be grouped other navy men whose enterprise and daring have added to our knowledge of the world. Among them are Charles Francis Hall, who pushed north from Thank God Harbor to within less than eight degrees of the North pole in October, 1871; George W. DeLong, who lost his life in polar work; William Francis Lynch, who in 1848 conducted a valuable official survey of the Jordan river and the Dead sea; Matthew Calbraith Perry, who so diplomatically opened Japan to the outside world in 1853; and Thomas Oliver Selfridge who conducted surveys for a canal across the Isthmus of Panama in 1890-73."

ECUADOR THRIVES ON CACAO TRADE

Increase in Use of Chocolate Brings Prosperity.

New York.—Ecuador is making a complete commercial comeback, the foreign trade council reports, wholly because of the popularity in the United States of chocolate-covered ice cream confections.

The sudden vogue here for ice cream served in a chocolate jacket, the council says, placed chocolate overnight at a new premium the world over. This re-established the demand for Ecuador's staple agricultural product, cacao, from which the highest grade bitter chocolate comes, and lifted that country out of financial depression.

The chocolate boom, the council says, proved lucky for the United States, as well as Ecuador, for it restored to the former one of its good customers of five years ago.

Commerce between countries being a simple matter of give and take, Ecuador is now spending its chocolate money freely here again, notably for our player pianos.

That Ecuador "plays" when, as and if the United States "eats," does not constitute a comparison of tastes in the two countries, the council adds, so much as it reveals anew that foreign trade, after all, is pretty human.

Confectioners in the United States prefer the Ecuador grade of bitter chocolate both for its flavor and because it takes a lot of sugar, and thus enables them to market their sugar at the higher price of candy, according to the council.

Ecuador's principal competitor is the Congo, but the African cacao is called milder and is said to run second with the candy trade.

When the World War shut off deep-sea transportation, the Congo's output was blocked, to the advantage of Ecuador, but it meanwhile piled up in such volume that when ocean communication was opened again after the war it came in a flood and broke the market. Ecuador found its own cacao selling at a loss or not at all, and trade there was brought to a temporary standstill.

In 1920, before the break came, Ecuador was selling its products in the United States at an annual rate of $12,244,000, and bought American products of a value of $14,480,000. The mutual effect of the slump was shown in figures for 1921, when Ecuador's exports to the United States fell about 75 per cent to only $3,541,000, and its imports dropped more than 67 per cent to $5,280,000.

Reported Officially Dead, Vet Claims to Live

Minneapolis, Minn.—A report by the district office here of the United States veterans' bureau declaring that Arthur Frazier, mystery man of the World War, is dead, has been sent to the veterans' bureau headquarters at Washington, D. C.

At the same time, his brother, Earl Frazier, Lookout, S. D., was at Rochester, Minn., checking up details in the interests of his parents, who contend that a man known as Arthur Lopez is Arthur Frazier, although Lopez confessed to Department of Justice officials he is not Frazier and then repudiated that confession.

More than a score of former members of D company, the old National Guard unit of Rochester, of which Arthur was a member, met at Rochester and Lopez talked about days "over there" with most of his former "buddies," who said after the meeting they were convinced that Lopez is Frazier.

C. D. Hibbard, district manager of the veterans' bureau here, sent the findings to Washington. The report states Arthur Lopez, who claims he is the South Dakota soldier, is not that man. Frazier was killed in France in 1918, according to War department records.

Members of the United States district attorney's office expressed the opinion that Lopez has violated no federal law in posing as Frazier.

Pigmy Mice of Africa Small as Bumblebees

London.—The smallest animals at the London zoo are a family of pigmy mice which arrived recently from Gambia, in western Africa. They are smaller than bumblebees and a pair could easily set up housekeeping in an ordinary safety match box. While the pigmies were being shipped to London 15 of them escaped through a hole smaller than might be made by a state pencil, and none of them was ever seen again.

Historic Tavern to Be Made Into Apartments

Lynn, Mass.—"Ye Olde Berry Tavern" in Danvers, one of the few remaining colonial taverns and the place where Benedict Arnold stopped when he passed through Massachusetts on his march to Quebec, will soon be converted into an apartment house.

The place has not paid for years. The eighteenth amendment was too much for the success of the colonial landmark as a tavern. The ancient structure will be moved back 60 feet from its location on the Old Boston Post road before alterations are begun.

TORNADO'S WHIMS Baffle Science

Vagaries Make Research Work Very Difficult.

Washington.—The vagaries of tornadoes, one variety of which recently snuffed out more than 800 lives in the Middle West, have almost completely baffled the researches of science. The suddenness with which they strike, and the destructive force of their attack, have made scientific study extremely difficult.

Prof. William J. Humphreys of the weather bureau describes a tornado as "a violent rotating storm of small dimensions." The chances are, he says, that not once in 1,000 years would a tornado hit the same spot twice.

Name Comes From Africa.

The name tornado originally was applied to a violent thunderstorm on the west coast of Africa. The variety of storm now called by that name, however, is peculiar to the Mississippi valley region of the United States, and rarely occurs in any other part of the world. Doctor Humphreys' records show that it does not occur west of Denver; is found only occasionally in southern Canada; is rare in the eastern part of the United States, and is not destructive in or east of the Allegheny mountains except in Alabama and Georgia.

The explanation is that the Rocky mountains, extending generally north and south, guide the cold air drifting to the south from the Canadian Rocky region. The drift of winds comes across the warm waters of the Gulf of Mexico and starts north across the United States.

The meeting of these cold and warm currents of air starts up a rotation between them, Doctor Humphreys explains, adding that no other part of the world has that geographic configuration existing in the Rocky-Gulf area.

Less Than Mile High.

The passage of these currents establishes violent rotations at cloud levels and the whirl beats itself down to the bottom, usually from a level of less than a mile above the earth, to the ground.

The tornado only occurs in connection with a big rain or snow-bringing storm, and is usually from 1,000 to 1,500 feet wide.

The peculiar phenomenon of the tornado "skipping," striking a spot and jumping over a stretch of country, leaving it undisturbed, is not so well understood. The upper part of the tornado seems for some reason to move ahead, breaking off its lower portion, and then, as it speeds on, the whirling wind finds its way to the ground again.

Report Big Increase in Cost of German Army

Berlin.—The German army is spending $28,000,000 more this year than it did in the year preceding. It is spending only 25 per cent less than the imperial German army in 1918.

Allowing for increased cost of equipment, these official figures still throw strange light on a disarmed land. Certainly they do not harmonize with the government's claim of a chained people armed with sticks, their military glory humbled in the dust. A people armed with sticks will not spend $28,000,000 gold marks, or $140,000,000 a year for its army.

One significant fact in the German military problem is the superabundance of officers and non-officers; the training of men who, technically private, can step into commissions and take over the drilling of recruits at a moment's notice. Of an army of 100,000 only 36,400 are privates, less than one-third. There are 19,000 sergeants and one top sergeant has been added to each company.

Analysis of the budget does not reveal any violations of the treaty of Versailles, but it does disclose an effort, easily understandable, in the direction of expansion wherever a restriction can be hurdled.

Government to Sort Patent Office Models

Washington.—The task of sorting out, from the 155,000 models in the custody of the patent office, those of historical and scientific interest has been delegated to a commission whose membership includes Thomas E. Robertson, commissioner of patents, and Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian institution.

Congress recently appropriated $10,000 to pay the commission's expenses. The work will consist largely of unpacking the models from some 2,500 wooden boxes in which they are stored, and choosing the scientifically and historically valuable.

These may be retained at the national museum or the patent office, but the mass of them will likely be distributed to museums throughout the country that desire them, or sent to the original depositors or their heirs.

Nation Gains 8,000,000

Washington.—Unofficial figures compiled here by arithmetical calculation indicate that the population of the United States will be 113,500,000 by July.

This represents an 8,000,000 increase since the 1920 census, when 105,710,620 persons were living in this country.

Of this growth in population, nearly 2,000,000 are credited as immigrants, the remaining 6,000,000 being native born.

ITALIANS HONOR ANCIENT MASTER

Fourth Century of Birth of Palestrina Observed.

Rome.—The fourth centenary of the birth in 1525 of Giovanni Pierluigi da Palestrina, the father of modern musical nomenclature and composer of a considerable amount of the most magnificent sacred music of the Roman Catholic church, is being celebrated this year in Rome and is being made the occasion for the rendition for the first time of many little-known non-religious works of the great master.

His Profane Music Little Known. Although Palestrina's sacred music is universally known, almost nothing is known of his profane music, of which he left about 200 madrigals and canzoni.

Since the "vocal orchestra" ceased to exist as a lay form of "instrumentation," no copies of Palestrina's profane music have existed. Of the entire body of his work, Richard Wagner published a first edition in Germany, but after such Italian musicians as Alberto Cimatti, Monsignor Casimiri Giovanni Tabaldini and Domenico Alaleona had pointed out the German edition was very faulty, the work of compiling a complete edition was undertaken in Italy. This, it is stated, will be ready some time during the current year.

Commemorative Concert Given. The first of a series of commemorative concerts took place recently at the royal academy of Santa Cecilia, under the direction of Domenico Alaleona, who had culled from the original manuscripts the works included in the program.

The magnitude of the task successfully accomplished by Alaleona is easily seen when it is remembered that the original works were written with uniform notes, without any indications of movement, color or expression.

The program included a canzone to the words of Petrarch's "chiare fresche e dolci acque," and a madrigal written on the occasion of the battle of Lepanto in 1571, when the united Christian armies defeated the Turks.

French Fishermen Sail With Blessing of Church

Le Havre.—Every year, before the Havre fishermen sail off in their boats to the distant Newfoundland banks, they gather together at Havre to celebrate the feast of their patron, saint, St. Peter. This year the presence of the archbishop of Rouen lent unusual interest to the ceremony.

The whole town turned out, and the church of St. Etienne was covered with flags and bunting and glittered with lights. The sailors filed reverently up the aisles, accompanied by their women folk, and the whole congregation, in picturesque Normandy attire, sang hymns and prayed for those who go down to the sea in ships.

As part of the ceremony, a bluff old master seaman, who had weathered many a storm, came to the rail of the choir and made an address in the rough, poetic language of the sea fang, to which the archbishop replied.

All the fishing fleet in the docks was gay with flags, their crews gathered to gether for the blessing of the ships by the archbishop. After the religious ceremony, bands played the "Marsellaise," the sailors cheered and the 1925 Newfoundland banks fishing season was declared open.

Edison Shortens Bill So Bird Can Catch Fish

Fort Myers, Fla.—If in your travels you should find a blue heron with an unusually short bill, do not believe you have discovered a new species. There is a blue heron flying around somewhere with a short bill, made so by no less a prominent personage than the famous inventor, Thomas A. Edison.

This became known here following the return of Edison and a party from a two-days' "exploration" trip into Vollier county, the inventor's first trip into southwest Florida in a number of years.

As they returned to Fort Myers, Edison's winter home, the party ran across a blue heron with a mutilated upper bill, which made it almost impossible for the bird to obtain food. Upon the suggestion of Mr. Edison the bird was captured and its upper bill trimmed to match the lower. When last seen the bird was contentedly standing in water catching fish members of the party declared.

"Someone will find a blue heron some day with a short bill and imagine they have found a new species," remarked Edison.

Largest and Smallest Lamp Bulbs on View

Washington.—What are believed to be the largest and smallest electric light bulbs ever made have arrived here for exhibition at the Smithsonian institution from the Edison Electric Company of New Jersey.

The messenger who brought the bulbs had to engage a section on the train to provide space for the packing case which contained the 40,000-watt giant.

The tiny "grain of wheat" bulb, as it is called, being about that size, he carried, carefully wrapped in tissue paper and in a padded envelope, in his pocket.

P. A. ATHLETICS

Andover 13—Coburn 9

Last Saturday the Coburn Classical nine was an easy victim for the suburban prep school and the latter team had an easy time winning by the score of 13 to 0.

Coach Daly's boys fattened their batting averages at the expense of four twirlers who were on the mound for the Waterville, Maine, team. During the contest the Blue pounded out 13 solid hits out of 37 times at bat, an average of .432 for the game.

The visitors could not connect with the slants that Caleb Layton was throwing up so in the sixth frame Coach Daly sent Layton to first and Captain John Prior twirled the remainder of the game and only two scratch hits were made from him in the four innings he worked.

Coburn Classical used four pitchers and the coach's plan of a field day by shifting his players all around.

Track

Harvard fresh won the first outdoor preliminary track meet of the season at Andover on Saturday when it defeated the Blue track team.

The feature race of the meet was the 220-yard dash in which Toolan of Andover de-

Rev. Fr. Regan of Hoosic Falls, N. Y., Rev. Fr. O'Brien of Bryn Mawr, Rev. Fr. Jones of Lowell and many others. Rev. R. A. Gleason, O. S. A., of Villanova college, Villanova, Pa., preached the sermon. Work on the edifice which was dedicated Sunday was begun May 1, 1895. The corner stone was laid August 18, 1895 by Rev. Bishop Brady, auxiliary bishop of Boston.

The death of Paul B. Follansbee, aged eighty-nine years, took place at his home near Haggitt's pond.

It has been proposed, and the matter is now under consideration, to remove some of the present wooden buildings known as the Latin commons. In spite of the fact that the removal of the commons will be a great improvement in the appearance of Andover, a good deal of regret is expressed at the prospect of their destruction. The old dormitories have seen more than seventy years of service and the list of eminent men whom their weather-beaten old walls have sheltered is a long one. They were built originally for the accommodation of the students of the "teachers seminary," an institution which was a part of Phillips Andover at that time.

Trainer Peet and Captain Crawford of the Phillips track team attended the spring outdoor meet at Exeter.

Horace M. Poynter, P. A. '96, Yale 1900, will spend Sunday at the residence of Maj. Marland. Mr. Poynter is very active in athletics at Yale.

The trustees have allotted a piece of ground south of the running track for the new campus, and work has been begun on it. The field will be 500 by 470 feet and will comprise a football ground and baseball diamond. The new gymnasium will probably be started this year, all the money for its construction having been obtained.

COR. FRANKLIN & COMMON STS., LAWRENCE

A Little Out of the Way

But It Pays to Walk

Few "White" Buffaloes

In the old days Indians cherished the white buffalo robe as almost beyond price.

In 1832 or 1833 the Mandans, says the Pittsburgh Sun, hearing that the Blackfeet at the mouth of the Yellowstone had a white buffalo robe, sent a delegation with eight horses and with trading goods the 200 miles to procure the robe if possible.

The delegation left the horses and the goods and returned afoot with the robe. This was consecrated to the Great Spirit and hung upon a pole out of touch, as powerful medicine.

It is said that not one in 100,000 buffalo was white. Even at that, the color was likely to be a yellowish white, and the robe was known by the plainmen as a "buffskin" robe. The pure white robe scarcely existed.

Basilicas

The name "basilica" was given in ancient Rome to buildings used as meeting places for business men, and as courts of justice. A basilica consisted of a long central hall or nave, with aisles, the aisles being separated from the nave by pillars supporting the roof. At the end of the nave, opposite the entrance, was a raised platform, or dais, with seats for the judges. To give additional space there was sometimes added at this farther end, a semicircular structure called an apse. After the introduction of Christianity, basilicas were very generally converted into churches, and thus it is that the form of the modern cathedral is derived from the ancient Roman basilica.—Kansas City Star.

The Eye Appeal

One of the chief differences between such an art as Homer's and such an art as Dante's or Milton's is that Homer never thinks of any appeal but through the ear; whereas Dante and Milton both know their verses will meet with eyes as well as ears. Their art is certainly not greater than Homer's, but it has finer modulations of significance. The thing is, that Dante and Milton, like every other printed or written poet, take advantage of the eye-appeal without losing the ear-appeal.—Lancaster Abolitionist.

Use for Old Newspapers

Merchants in the countries of the Far East depend wholly on the supply of discarded American newspapers as wrappers for purchases in their shops. Hundreds of tons of whole and clean newspapers are being shipped monthly to the Far East from Atlantic coast ports. This business formerly fell almost exclusively to Pacific coast dealers, but with the outbreak of the World war the Eastern firms began purchasing the newspapers from junkmen for foreign shipment.

Strength of Beetles

Scientific observations of the beetle show it has tremendous power. So far this power has been set at 112 times its own weight. A captive beetle was placed under a large milk bottle made from heavy glass. In a short time the beetle was pushing the bottle ahead of it at a steady and good pace. Another beetle was made to climb an incline of 5 degrees dragging a weight equal to 125 grains. The weight was attached to its leg by a silk thread.

Tracts and Tracks

Uncle Bill Walker, who lived at the foot of Great Smoky, became an easy convert to the propaganda of Mormon missionaries. His brother, Sammie, an old magistrate of considerable means and great influence in the coves of the Smokies, was eagerly sought after as a "prospector."

Squire Sammie was sitting in his front porch one afternoon when two elders of the new faith came up from the road.

"Brother Walker," one of them began courteously, "we have come to tell you about the Church of the Latter-Day Saints, and we should like to leave some tracts for you to look over."

"That's all right, gentlemen," the old mountaineer replied without even taking his pipe from his mouth. "You-uns is welcome to leave all the tracts you want to, just so's the toes of 'em is plain 'tward yan gate!"—Everybody's Magazine.

By Intention

When a Scotchman has no argument at his tongue's end to defend his own line of conduct which another may have criticized, it may safely be inferred that his ancestry has a strain from some other nation.

A man who has an estate in Scotland took his new plowman to task for the wavering furrows which were the result of his work.

"Your drills are not nearly as straight as those Angus made," he said severely. "He would not have left such a glee as this."

"Angus didn't ken his work," said Tammas calmly, contemplating his employer with an indulgent gaze. "Ye see, when the drills is crockit the sun gets in on all sides, an' 'tis then ye get early 'tattie!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Words Wrongly Spelled

"I have seen lists of the words most often misspelled," said a teacher quoted in the New York Times, "but in my experience the one most frequently missed in print is 'gauge.' I have even found it stamped 'gauge' on the manufactured article. The next most frequently misspelled? I don't know. But for one infrequently used 'buoy' certainly ranks high. 'Weird' seems to give some people lots of trouble, and almost everybody on a test will misspell 'deleble,' because better acquainted with its negative, 'indeleble,' which has changed its original spelling."

We'do Turned a Corner

Waldo's teacher had asked him to write a sentence containing the word amphibious, and as Waldo was but twelve, he had some trouble spelling the word, but, after several calls on teacher for aid, evidently got it written to his satisfaction. Then ensued a long period of concentration and wriggling. It was broken when Waldo asked teacher how to spell containing.

At last he laid the results of his labor on the teacher's desk, and this is what she read:

"My teacher has asked me to write a sentence containing the word amphibious."—Philadelphia Ledger.

SCHOOLBOYS LEAD LEAGUE

Shawsheen, Undelected, Take Top Berth as Indian Ridge Loses — Indians Play Tie With Providence

The Shawsheen school soccer team are leading the schoolboy league with three wins, no losses and one tie game. The defeat of the Indian Ridge team by the Central team of Methuen and their own victory over the Merrimack team of North Andover, whom they defeated 3 to 0, put them at the head. The team has several good players in the lineup and barring accidents should keep the position they now hold.

In their game Saturday afternoon, preceding the Providence game, they displayed good team work and Howard Walker soon found the goal for the first score. He scored once more before half-time and in the last half Best put one more into the net.

The summary:
SHAWSHEEN: g, Farrar; Rennie, r.b.; W. White, l.b.; Burns, r.b.b.; Murray, c.b.b.; Marcus, l.b.b.; H. White, r.o.f.; Best, r.i.f.; H. Walker, c.f.; Scobie, l.i.f.; B. Walker, l.o.f.

Score: Shawsheen 3, Merrimack 0. Goals: H. Walker, 2, Best. Referee: W. Williams. Linemen: J. Todd and R. Scobie. Time: 30 minute halves.

Shawsheen and Providence in Tie Game

Although a small crowd, some 400, turned out to see Shawsheen meet the Providence soccer team of the American league Saturday afternoon, those who attended were well repaid, for the two teams played a clean, aggressive game throughout and when time was called the score was 2 all. This is the second time the teams have met and in each case the score has been the same.

Providence was fortunate to escape with a draw game for Shawsheen was the more dangerous side, coming from behind twice to even the score.

With no scoring in the first half, play was fast at the opening of the second half, and before it was very far along, Beattie had scored for the visitors. Some fine playing by Nixon and Carrie gave the latter a chance which he accepted. This same pair, aided by Bushnell, found another opening following another Providence goal and Carrie tied it at two apiece with no change when the final whistle blew.

The summary:

When Terrible Black

Death Ravaged England

One of the first places in Europe where the black death appeared was at a small Genoese fort in the Crimea, the western terminus of the overland Chinese trade route. The Tartars were besieging the fort at the time, and Chinese merchants took refuge there. The siege was lifted by the invading army, which fled from the plague, thus spreading the infection southward into Asia Minor, Syria and Egypt. Ships from the Euxine carried the contagion to Constantinople and to Genoa, and thence it radiated, fanshape, throughout the Mediterranean littoral.

In August, 1348, England's first black death victim succumbed in Dorsetshire. By November it had reached London. By the summer of 1349 it had dragged its pall of putrefaction over the entire island, including Scotland. Norwich, which had been the second city of the kingdom, dropped to sixth in size, more than two-thirds of its population falling victims of the scourge.

"Cultivation of the fields was utterly impossible and there were not even enough able-bodied laborers to gather the crops which had matured. Cattle roamed through the corn unmolested and the harvest rotted where it stood."—National Geographic Magazine.

Newspaper Story Well

Worth Being Told Again

Perhaps it's because newspaper men are a clanish lot of lads and prefer, when not engaged in their arduous duties, to be of and among themselves to seeking the company of others, but it strikes this observer that those who are alien to the newspaper profession hear few stories respecting the activities of the boys from the paper offices. Certainly the young man—or young woman—who is engaged in gathering the news of the day encounters plenty of adventure, some of it funny and again some of it not so funny.

Practically every newspaper man in the world has heard the story of the cub reporter who, being of a timid nature, was assigned by his city editor to interview the irascible capitalist whose lovely daughter had just run off with the family chauffeur. In fear and trembling he rang the doorbell. "Is Mr. Jones in?" he asked the maid who answered the door. "No, he is not," she replied. "Thank God!" said the reporter, and fell off the steps.

The story is so familiar to newspaper men (in fact it is incorporated in many of the textbooks that now aim to teach the young reporter how to shoot) that one wonders how generally it is known by the public.

At the sitting of the Superior court at Lawrence next week the following local cases will be on the trial calendar:

Sacred Steps

The Santa Scala is a flight of 28 steps of white-veined marble in the piazza of the church of St. John Laterna at Rome, which, according to tradition, belonged to the house of Pilate at Jerusalem, and were made sacred by the feet of Christ as he passed to judgment. The Kansas City Times relates. Penitents are permitted to ascend these stairs only on their knees, and so great has been the number that annually made the ascent that it was found necessary to cover the steps with planks of wood to insure their protection. It was while ascending these steps that Martin Luther, then a monk, thought he heard the words, "The just shall live by faith." Mortified by the degradation to which he considered his superstition had led him, he descended and hastened from the spot.

Franklin and His Kite

Of timely interest, in view of recent doubt cast upon Benjamin Franklin's kite experiment, is the recent discovery of a letter written by Franklin on the subject in a book published in London in 1774, now in the library of the Franklin Institute, Philadelphia, says Popular Science Monthly. After describing how to make the kite with a pointed wire on the upright stick, Franklin says:

"As soon as any of the thunder clouds come over the kite, the pointed wire will draw the electric fire from them, and the kite, with all the twine, will be electrified, and the loose filaments of the twine will stand out every way and be attracted by an approaching finger."

"Sit on the Woolsack"

This expression signifies "To be lord chancellor of England." The lord chancellor, presiding officer of the house of lords, occupies a seat on a cushion stuffed with wool. It is a large square bag of wool, without back or arms, and covered with red cloth. In Queen Elizabeth's reign, an act was passed to prevent the exportation of wool from England and encourage woolen manufacture. In order that this source of the national wealth should be kept constantly in mind, wool sacks were placed in the house of lords, where the judges sat.

A rally in the fourth inning which netted three runs, gave the Sacred Hearts ball team a 4 to 2 win over the Shawsheen midgets Monday afternoon at Balmoral Field.

The game developed into a pitchers' battle between Gallant and Carram, but the former's ineffectiveness cost his team the game. He passed seven men during the contest although he had 10 strikeouts to his credit.

Shawsheen Boys Winners

Shawsheen Schoolboys added two more points to their league standing last night when they defeated the Albert Thompson school of North Andover 4 goals to 1 in Balmoral Field.

The visitors had a snappy eleven and played hustling football in the first half, although seldom dangerous in front of goal. Shawsheen had many opportunities to score but poor shooting and a good defence by North Andover nullified all attempts at the net. The half ended without scoring.

Shawsheen attacked when the second half opened but were repulsed. North Andover broke away and a mistake by the defense in clearing let the visitors' center-forward through and he easily beat the Shawsheen goalie for the opening score.

The model villagers attacked vigorously and soon equalized. White netting. Goals came quickly after that. Best scoring one and Howard Walker twice. The latter played snappy football all through and had several brilliant runs.

A Style of Shoe for Every Foot

Does the shape of your shoes conform to the shape of your foot? Or do you prefer to suffer the agonies of corns, bunions, etc. feet?

The Chinese are looked down upon as uncivilized because they squeeze their feet into very small shoes. Yet many women in America, for the sake of fashion, buy shoes which are much too small and narrow.

The widest part of the foot is across the level of the great toe joint. The inner line of the normal foot hardly curves at all, so that when the shoes are placed side by side the tips of the toes should be little, if at all, separated. Pointed shoes put a strain on the traverse arch and help make bunions.

If you must be in style why not choose the sport shoe which is cut along fairly sensible lines?
